Gel Printing

Gel plates are a staple tool for any printmaking studio or classroom, offering a unique creative process, making it easy for anyone to create! Speedball Gel Plates are formulated specifically for use with printmaking inks, expanding the range of surfaces you can print on by using ink instead of acrylic paint. Made from a high durometer material, Speedball Gel Plates provide great detail in prints with minimal movement of color. Speedball is a one stop shop for everything you need to create your next Gel Plate print!

Gel Printing is a monotype printmaking process that utilizes a reusable gelatin plate with printmaking inks to create your image. To print with Gel Printing Plates, ink is applied to the surface of the plate using a brayer, then stencils or other textural materials can be added to leave their mark in the ink, and finally it is time to pull the print! This process is abstract and freeing, making it easy to create one of a kind prints every time!

The easy process of this type of printing attracts hobbyists and pros alike as the prints can be as simple or, through building textures, as complex as the artist likes.

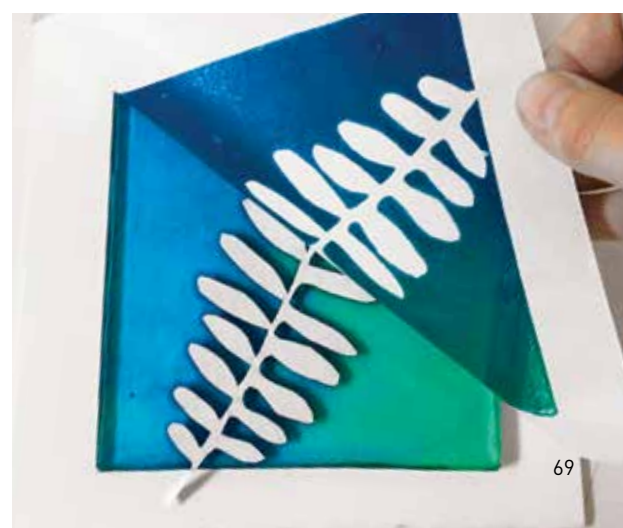

GEL PRINTMAKING PLATES

MEET THE ARTIST Amy Nack

"Speedball Gel Plates are the perfect tool for easily and spontaneously creating wonderful impressions and gorgeous decorative papers using Akua Intaglio Inks, Arnhem 1618, Speedball Bristol and Speedball Mulberry Papers. I take mine with me when I travel so I can capture prints of local plant life and souvenirs."

GEL PRINTING PRINTMAKING PLATES

Made from clear gelatin, Gel Printing Plates are perfect for monoprinting. Making it easy for hobbyists and fine artists alike to create beautiful one-of-a-kind prints for card-making, journaling, scrapbooking, home decor projects and much more! Use with any water- or oil-based printmaking inks.

Individual plates are housed in a durable clamshell packaging that can be re-used to keep plates safe from scuffing, marring and particulates when not in use.

Gel Printing Plates come in (4) sizes, individually or value-priced 10-plate bulk packs.
